UM ARTISTS EXHIBIT WORK

James Todd, chairman of the University of Montana art department, and David James, assistant professor of art, have work on exhibit in the East and Midwest.

"Self-Portrait," a wood engraving by James Todd, was purchased for the Permanent Collection of the Flint Institute of Art in New York.

"Brave," another wood engraving by Todd, recently appeared in the Third International Miniature Print Exhibition in Seoul, Korea.

Todd has also been commissioned by Armstrong-Prior Inc. of Phoenix, Ariz., to interview and write an essay and do a wood engraving portrait on the Arizona artist Phillip Curtis.

James had his mixed-media painting, "Athens," selected for the "Trains and Planes Show 1985" at the Galesburg Civic Art Center in Illinois. The exhibition will be from June 6 to July 13.
